Welcome to Kido Gateway

early years, reimagined

The first five years are the most crucial period of any child's life. And yet, the world over, preschools and daycare rely on 20th century teaching and technology to prepare children for the 21st century.

At Kido, we've set out to change that, and bring advances in pedagogy, design and technology to create the highest quality preschools and daycare anywhere.

Across the world, and here in the heart of Chennai, we're creating magical spaces for children to play, learn, grow and thrive. Reach out to us and your dedicated centre manager will take you on a tour of a magical learning journey for your child.

"Kido has been a breakthrough in helping me manage both my career and family life. Without it, I wouldn't have been able to continue my job. I truly appreciate it, as it aligns perfectly with my office timings—I drop her off at 9:30 and pick her up at 5:30!"

“It’s an excellent place for your kid to learn. They have friendly staff and provide stimulating activities and study materials. You will observe a safe environment for kids. Safety is ensured with CCTV coverage in all areas.”

The Kido Story

by parents, for parents

We are owned and operated by a group of parents from all over the world. We were set up in response to our founders' struggles as young parents in different cities around the world. So, since our first school in Hong Kong in 2014, we've been obsessed with two things: improving learning outcomes for children, and our service to parents. In February 2024, Amelio became part of Kido International, strengthening our commitment to outstanding early education.

To meet our twin objectives, we've invested significantly in people, technology and systems or every aspect of a preschool operation - recruitment, training, curriculum, operations, observations and assessments, parent communication and much more. We've served thousands of families in places as diverse as the USA, the UK, the UAE, India and China. Being international, we incorporate best practices from around the world.

Kido Preschools & Daycare

preschool, meet the future

We are on a mission to build the best early learning spaces in the world. According to the Reggio Emilia approach to early education, the environment is considered the third educator. With that in mind, we've created some of the most stimulating preschools and daycare in the world. No location can ever be too beautiful for our children.

Our school design goes hand in hand with our pedagogy. Every area is set up to aid the learning journey of each child. Furniture and resources are curated from the best providers in the world. Our technology platform allows teachers to spend more time on the children and less on administration. We use technology as a tool to improve the experience of both children and parents.

“We are happy with Kido’s curriculum and our child’s overall learning experience. Kido offers a safe space where children can explore and engage with the world beyond.”

Our Pedagogy

early years, reimagined

We believe that a combination of free and structured play, an engaging and interactive learning environment, and an abundance of love, care and attention provide the most solid foundation for children in the early years.

The Kido Early Years Program draws best practices from leading philosophies from around the world, such as Montessori, Reggio Emilia and the theory of Multiple Intelligences. It is developed in house and supported by a world renowned panel of advisors. Our pedagogical leadership team has over 200 years of combined experience in early years teaching, research and pedagogy across more than ten countries, and in multiple languages. We modify our program for each country that we operate in, to adhere to national curriculum framework.

"I strongly recommend Kido to everyone. It's like leaving my kid at my parents' place. I can safely leave him here and go to work."
