early years, reimagined

The first five years are the most crucial period of any child's life. And yet, the world over, nurseries and preschools rely on 20th century teaching and technology to prepare children for the 21st century.

At Kido, we've set out to change that, and bring advances in pedagogy, design and technology to create the highest quality nurseries and preschools anywhere.

Across the world, and here in the heart of Chiswick, we're creating magical spaces for children to play, learn, grow and thrive. Reach out to us and your dedicated nursery manager will take you on a tour of a magical learning journey for your child.

“We are extremely happy with Kido Chiswick, and would highly recommend it. The staff are superb, ensuring that our daughter is well looked after in every aspect, and providing a really personal service to us and our child.”

James S
Parent, Kido

"From the moment I visited Kido Chiswick I knew I'd found the right place for my one year old daughter. The kindness and care shown to the children is palpable."

by parents, for parents

We are owned and operated by a group of parents from all over the world. We were set up in response to our founders' struggles as young parents in different cities around the world. So, since our first school in Hong Kong in 2014, we've been obsessed with two things: improving learning outcomes for children, and our service to parents.

To meet our twin objectives, we've invested significantly in people, technology and systems on every aspect of a nursery operation - recruitment, training, curriculum, operations, observations and assessments, parent communication and much more.

We've served thousands of families in places as diverse as the USA, the UK, the UAE, India and China. Being international, we incorporate best practices from around the world.

nursery, meet the future

We are on a mission to build the best early learning spaces in the world. According to the Reggio Emilia approach to early education, the environment is considered the third educator. With that in mind, we've created some of the most stimulating preschools and nurseries in the world. No location can ever be too beautiful for our children.

Our school design goes hand in hand with our pedagogy. Every area is set up to aid the learning journey of each child. Furniture and resources are curated from the best providers in the world. Our technology platform allows teachers to spend more time on the children and less on administration. We use technology as a tool to improve the experience of both children and parents.

“As a teacher, I wanted my daughter, even at a young age, to be involved in a range of activities which centred around Early Learning Goals and it is great to see that staff plan activities which are engaging as well as educational.”

Nicky G
Parent, Chiswick

"The duty of care they give to the children as well as the formal education coupled with genuine love and emotional care is second to none - I wish they had a follow on school!"

“Our son has been with Kido since September last year and moving him there was the best decision we made. He has really come out of his shell, grown and developed in all aspects and is now a confident little boy.”

Our Pedagogy

early years, reimagined

We believe that a combination of free and structured play, an engaging and interactive learning environment, and an abundance of love, care and attention provide the most solid foundation for children in the early years.

The Kido Early Years Program draws best practices from leading philosophies from around the world, such as Montessori, Reggio Emilia and the theory of Multiple Intelligences. It is developed in house and supported by a world renowned panel of advisors. Our pedagogical leadership team has over 200 years of combined experience in early years teaching, research and pedagogy across more than ten countries, and in multiple languages. We modify our program for each country that we operate in, to adhere to national curriculum framework.

“Incredible experience! I received a lot of support during the settlement process.
My little one enjoys the time she spends there.”

Patricia C
Parent, Chiswick

“Wonderful in nursery activities - I never thought there were so many cool stuff that a young baby can do! I always feel sorry for my baby at home as it is so boring vs. what nursery provides for her.”

Wei C
Parent, Chiswick

“The settling-in process is fantastic at Kido and the staff really took their time to get to know our daughter and understand her. The staff are warm, caring and so helpful.”

home away from home

Kido Chiswick is situated in Edmunds House directly opposite the residential playground. We are the official affiliated preschool for Chiswick Park, with the heart of the development a one-minute walk away, directly over the pedestrian bridge.

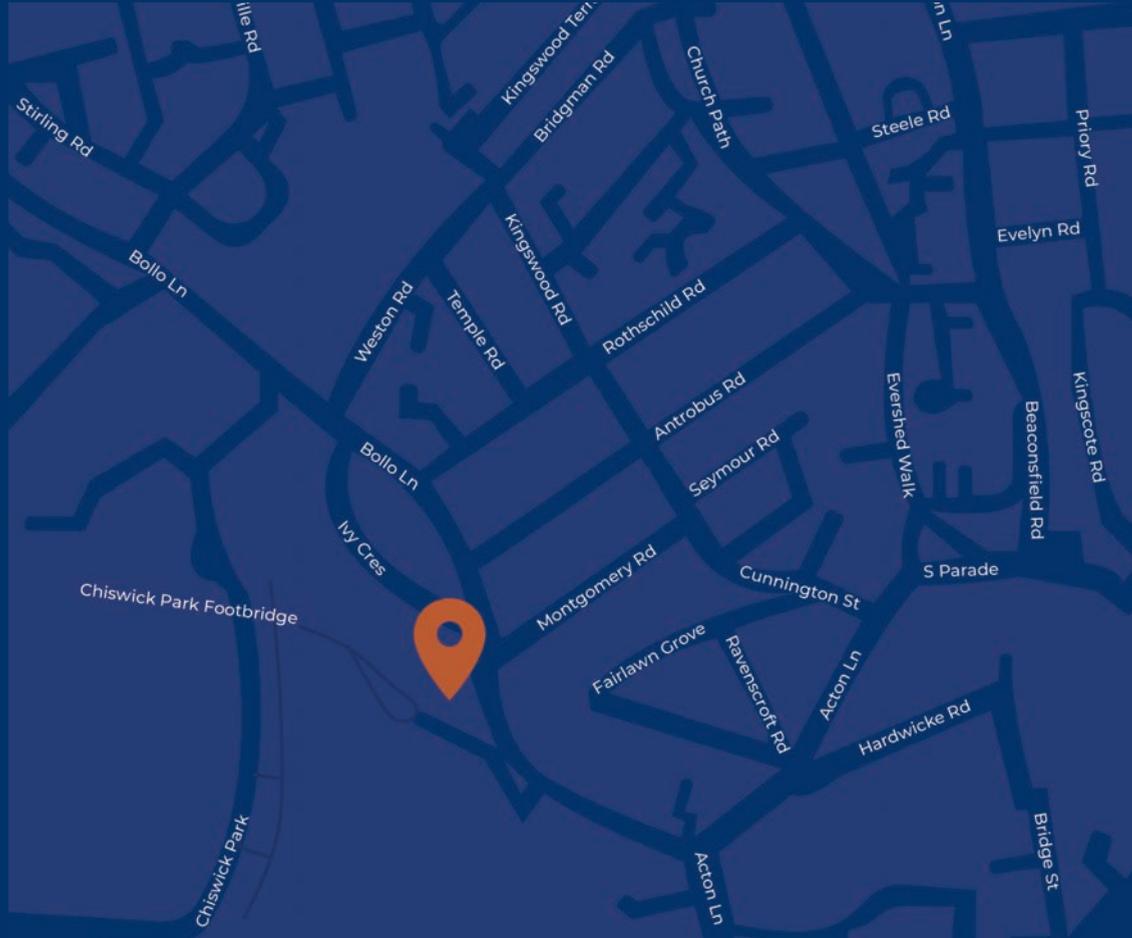

Our nursery features large indoor and outdoor play areas, expansive learning spaces and lots of natural light. Each room has access onto the garden which enables children to enjoy access to in and outdoor learning activities. Kido Chiswick is just a two-minute walk from a nearby nature trail. This means children can enjoy outdoor experiences, as they explore Gunnersbury Nature Reserve.

"I give big thumbs up Kido Chiswick, I'm so amazed at how much love, care and dedication all the workers give to supporting my little princess."

Richard C
Parent, Chiswick

You'll find our nursery in Edmund's House, Colonial Drive, just around the corner from Chiswick Park tube station.
